I would like to start by thanking all of you for a great month of September and a great year! October 28th will be the 1 year anniversary of the first event I ran at An Clachan! In celebration I would like to invite you to join together as a Community on Sunday October 28th to talk about the year and do some visioning for the year ahead of us. I hope you will come and join in the conversation!

Our theme for October is Equity and Food Security. I invite you to get involved in some of our events this month around these themes. We will be having a 2-part program starting October 11th with a presentation on Food Security and Social Change which will take place on campus. Then join us on October 31st for our Trick or Eat Campaign. Dress up in your Halloween costumes and then we will join Queen's campus residents and go into the community to collect food donations for the food bank. Watch Facebook for details on locations and times or contact amy.case@queensu.ca for more details.

October 26th is a P.A. Day and we have guests from Four Directions Aboriginal Student Centre who are going to come to An Clachan to teach us about their traditional corn husk dolls. The event will start promptly at 1:30pm with a story time after which we will learn how to make corn husk dolls.
Four Directions strives to be a home away from home for Indigenous students and a site of information and support for the broader Queen's community. It is a hub of activity where all are welcome and encouraged to drop in and learn about the supports and services available. For more information go to www.queensu.ca/fourdirections/.

If you have any questions about upcoming events or want to chat about some ideas, please feel free to connect with me directly.
